An estimated 5,000 people greeted the President at Price. He was greeted by Mayor A. D. Keller, mayor; Carbon county Democratic chairman; Governor E. W. Kay, U.S. Senator; Walter E. Granger, U.S. Senator; Sharon Holdaway, 10 and Judy Bandana, 9, presented Mrs. Truman with a bouquet of roses.

Mrs. J. Grant Fairchild, member of the Price Women's club presented Mrs. Truman with a corset. Mayor Keller accompanied the Presidential party to Helper, second stop in Utah.

HELPER, Sept. 30th

Mayor D. E. Cannon, of Helper, boarded the train for the run to Provo. During the trip from Price to Helper, the President was presented with a miner's hard-shell hat by Frank Faz, district No. 23 vice president UNW.

PHOTO, Sept. 30th

The Provo Chamber of Commerce handed the President a basket of peaches upon his arrival. Immediately following his talk, Mayor Milo Hopkins, county vice Democratic chairman presented the President with an ash tray made from a first casting of Geneva steel, a gift of the Mayor's Quartermaster club. Mrs. Hopkins then gave Mrs. Truman the key to Utah county made of red, white and blue ash tray. Among those meeting the train were Mayor George E. Collier of Provo; Mayor W. E. Hill of Provo; Dr. Walter M. Hutchins, president of Geneva Steel Company; D. Harvey King, vice-president and treasurer of the Pacific Coast Iron Pipe Co.; Harry G. Keith, president and Glen W. Jenkins, manager Provo Chamber of Commerce and Alton Giles, Provo City Democratic chairman.

PRICE, Sept. 31st

(Those boarding the Presidential train)
Salt Lake City Judge Harry Beck Rosson, Rep. Calvin Hargis, Democratic National Committeeman and Mrs. Hargis; Rep. Grant McFarlane, Democratic State Chairman and Mrs. McFarlane; Mrs. Rexey R. Noyes, National Committeewoman; Mrs.2. Elma C. Rack, Mrs. Scott C. Reed, State Vice Chairman; Maurice Anderson, Democratic State Committeeman; Margaret Campbell, vice president Young Democrats of Utah; John B. Soper, state finance director and Mrs. Soper and Clinton B. Vernon, former state Democratic chairman.

Utah labor leaders went into a huddle with the President while the train traveled from Price to Salt Lake City. They were: Joseph J. Terry, John J. Noyes, Karl K. Littler, Walter M. Wetzler, Harry Beck Rosson and Frank Faz. All were photographed with the President in his private car.

AMERICAN FORK, September 31st

The President was photographed on the rear platform with Salt Lake City Judge Harry Beck Rosson, a native of American Fork. Judge Rosson is a candidate for a seat in the U.S. Congress on the Democratic ticket.

OGDEN, September 31st

The President was greeted by a crowd of 2,000 persons at the Ogden depot and was escorted to the platform in front of the station by Mayor Harry W. Perry of Ogden, Marion Strong, captain of Weber county sheriff's mounted posse and made the President a captain and honorary member of the posse. Marilyn Robinson, named Miss Utah, placed a buttonhole in the President's lapel buttonhole, with a nice little speech of welcome. Rep. G. Hunsaker, Weber county Democratic chairman presented Mrs. Truman and Margaret to the crowd as he opened the meeting then introduced Rep. Walter K. Granger, who introduced the President.
The President's car headed the parade from the station to the Hotel Utah. It was followed by service men and cars carrying Mrs. Truman, Miss Margaret Truman and Utah Democratic leaders. Mrs. Truman introduced the President. Hugh B. Brown, professor at Brigham Young University, delivered the invocation.

Mayor Emery J. Blake and Mrs. Blake officially greeted the President and family upon arrival in the city.

Lead car in the parade to the Hotel Utah carried Police Chief C. O. Gunther, Public Safety Commissioner E. B. Romney and F. M. Ayre, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Truman and Miss Margaret Truman were honored at a private dinner at the Hotel Utah just before the President's address. Utah's most prominent Democratic women were present including Mrs. Herbert Gay, wife of the Governor, Mrs. Alvin B. Curtis and Mrs. George O. Holbrook, daughters of President Smith and Salt Lake City postmaster, J. A. Holbrook, were also on hand to greet the President and the Presidential train.

A bouquet of roses was presented to the President by Alphonse Sayles on behalf of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Salt Lake City.

At the dinner tendered the President by the women's organization of the Utah Democratic party were Governor and Mrs. Rawlins and Mrs. Walter Granger, Free Smith and his daughter Mrs. Stewart, Judge Bannister and Judge Tullman B. Johnson.

At the tabernacle the Ogden Club, directed by Albert W. Goodrich, sang two songs after the invocation.

(Utah City, September 1st)

The President posed for pictures in the Hotel Utah presidential suite with the Salt Lake 'Vote for' campaign committee. With him were George S. Vauxhun, A. P. Allred, Miss Virginia Moyer (Miss Utah Industry, 1948) and G. E. Jenkins.

Several members of the 140-man Salt Lake City police detail assigned to escort the President from the Hotel Utah to the railroad depot, when he left, received personal thanks for their services from the President.

In a surprise and impromptu ceremony before the train left for Ogden, the President shook hands with each of the police officers beginning with Traffic Lt. P. Clay Sanford.

The President was introduced to Hard G. Holbrook, state senator from Davis County at the depot before leaving for Ogden.

President George Albert Smith of the General Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, presented the President with two boxes of peaches, shortly after his arrival in Salt Lake City. The peaches were donated by J. D. Kendall, Farrington and Lenore Beckwood, Mrs. Robert B. Rasmussen and Mrs. George S. Holbrook daughters of President Smith and Salt Lake City postmaster, J. A. Holbrook, were also on hand to greet the President and the Presidential train.

A bouquet of roses was presented to the President by Alphonse Sayles on behalf of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Salt Lake City.