3. These letters state the War Department policy on the treatment of Negro personnel in the Army. They include, in addition to the general statement of policy recommended by Mr. Gibson, specific instructions on pertinent subjects such as use of recreational facilities, promotion of officers, etc. However, investigations of incidents have disclosed that the provisions of these letters have not been known and applied by the commanding officers concerned.

4. In order to make the War Department policy better known and observed in the service, I recommend that a new letter not be issued, but that when members of the Inspector General Department make their routine administrative inspections of commands having Negro personnel, they be directed to inquire as to whether or not the letters referred to in paragraph 2 above are available to the command, and also whether or not the provisions of these letters are being complied with.
