President Harry S. Truman
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sirs:

In the name of all those who are signing the peace petitions all over the country, I beg of you to reconsider this country of arms, munitions, or any other kind. Men, like us, they are fighting in a civil war, not an international one. They are fighting for unity in a country where there has been war.

The world has not yet realized the value of what has been spent. Let us spend more time in rebuilding what should never have been made useless.

Let us talk before we fight. Let us compromise before we war.

Respectfully yours,
Carolyn M. Agnew
