Whereas the United Nations have time in time made declarations of their intention that war criminals shall be brought to justice;

And whereas the Moscow Declaration of the 10th October 1943 on German atrocities in occupied Europe stated that those German officers and men and members of the Nazi party who have been responsible for or have taken an active part in or connived at or ordered or known or or condoned the war crimes committed in the territories over which they had administered or over which they had authority;

And whereas these declarations were stated to be without prejudice to the cases of war criminals whose offences have no particular geographical location and who will be punished by the joint decision of the Governments of the Allied Powers;

Now therefore the Governments of the United States of America, the Provisional Government of the French Republic, the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, and the Governments of the United Nations, namely the United States of America, the British Commonwealth of Nations, the Soviet Union, China, the Netherlands, and France, and the Governments of the United Nations, namely the United States of America, the British Commonwealth of Nations, the Soviet Union, China, the Netherlands, and France, do hereby, in pursuance of the Moscow Declaration of the 10th October 1943, and of the Declaration of the 15th December 1943, agree as follows:

Chairman of the International Military Tribunal

1. CONSTITUTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL MILITARY TRIBUNAL

ARTICLE 1. In pursuance of the agreement signed on the eighth day of August 1945 by the Government of the United States of America, the Provisional Government of the French Republic, the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, there shall be established an International Military Tribunal (hereinafter called the Tribunal) for the just and prompt trial and punishment of the major war criminals of the European Axis.

ARTICLE 2. The Tribunal shall consist of four members, each with an alternate. One member and one alternate shall be appointed by each of the signatories. The alternates shall, so far as they are able, be present at all sessions of the Tribunal. In case of illness or other necessity, the member for whose absence the alternate sits, shall sit in the place of the alternate.

ARTICLE 3. Neither the Tribunal, its members nor their alternates can be challenged by the prosecution, or by the defendants or their counsel. Each signatory may replace the member of the Tribunal or his alternate for reasons of health or for other good reasons, except that no replacement may take place during a trial, other than by an alternate.

ARTICLE 4. In the presence of all four members of the Tribunal or the alternates for any absent member shall be necessary to constitute the quorum.

(b) The members of the Tribunal shall, before any trial begins, agree among themselves upon the division of their number into a President, and the President shall hold office during that trial, or as may otherwise be agreed by a vote of not less than three members. The principle of rotation of presidency for successive trials is agreed. If, however, a session of the Tribunal takes place on the territory of one of the signatories, the representative of that signatory on the Tribunal shall preside.

(c) Save as aforesaid, the Tribunal shall take decisions by a majority vote and in case the votes are evenly divided, the vote of the President shall be decisive provided always that minorities and sentences shall only be imposed by affirmative votes of at least three members of the Tribunal.
Article 5. In cases of need and depending on the number of the matters to be tried, other tribunals may be set up, and the establishment, functions, and procedure of such tribunals shall be identical, and shall be governed by this Chapter.

II. PURPOSES AND GENERAL PRINCIPLES

Article 6. The Tribunal established by the agreement referred to in article 1 herein for the trial and punishment of the major war criminals of the European Axis countries shall have the power to try and punish persons who, acting in the interests of the European Axis countries, whether as individuals or as members of organizations, committed any of the following offenses:

For all such acts, or any of them, are crimes coming within the jurisdiction of the Tribunal for which there shall be individual responsibility:

(a) Crimes against peace. Namely, planning, preparation, initiation or waging of a war of aggression, or a war in violation of international treaties, agreements or assurances, or participation in a common plan or conspiracy for the accomplishment of any of the foregoing;

(b) War Crimes. Namely, violations of the laws or customs of war. Such violations shall include, but not be limited to, murder, ill-treatment or deportation to slave labor or for any other purpose of civilian population of or in occupied territory, murder or ill-treatment of prisoners of war or of persons on the sea, killing of hostages, plunder of public or private property, wanton destruction of cities, towns or villages, or devastation not justified by military necessity;

(c) Crimes against humanity. Namely, murder, extermination, enslavement, deportation, and other inhumane acts committed against any civilian population, before or during the war, or persecution on political, racial or religious grounds in connection with or in connection with any act within the jurisdiction of the Tribunal, whether or not in violation of the domestic law of the country where perpetrated.

Leaders, organizers, instigators and accomplices participating in the formulation or execution of a common plan or conspiracy to commit any of the foregoing crimes are responsible for all acts performed by any persons in execution of such plan.

Article 7. The official position of defendants, whether as heads of state or responsible officials in government departments, shall not be considered as furnishing them from responsibility or mitigating punishment.

Article 8. The fact that the defendant acted pursuant to order of his government or of a superior shall not bar him from responsibility, but may be considered in mitigation of punishment if the Tribunal determines that justice so requires.

Article 9. All trials of any individual matter of any group or organization the Tribunal may declare in connection with any act of which the individual may be convicted that the group or organization of which the individual was a member was a criminal organization.

After receipt of the indictment the Tribunal shall give such notice as it thinks fit that the prosecution intends to seek the Tribunal to make such declaration and any member of the organization will be entitled to apply to the Tribunal for leave to be heard by the Tribunal upon the question of the criminal character of the organization. The Tribunal shall make such order as it may direct in that matter the applicants shall be represented and heard.
Article 10. In cases where a group or organisation is declared criminal by the Tribunal, the competent national authority of any signatory shall have the right to bring individuals to trial for membership therein before national, military or occupation courts. In any such case the criminal nature of the group or organisation is considered proved and shall not be questioned.

Article 11. Any person convicted by the Tribunal may be charged before a national, military or occupation court, referred to in article 10 of this Chapter, with a crime other than membership in a criminal group or organisation, and such court may, after convicting him, impose upon him punishment independent of an additional to the punishment imposed by the Tribunal for participation in the criminal activities of such group or organisation.

Article 12. The Tribunal shall have the right to take proceedings against a person charged with crimes set out in article 9 of this Chapter in his absence, if he has not been found or if the Tribunal, for any reason, finds it necessary, in the interests of justice, to conduct the hearing in his absence.

Article 13. The Tribunal shall draw up rules for its procedure. These rules shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Chapter.

III. COMPETENCES FOR THE INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION OF MAJOR WAR CRIMES

Article 14. Each signatory shall appoint a chief prosecutor for the investigation of the charges against and the prosecution of major war criminals.

The chief prosecutor shall act as a committee for the following purposes:

(a) To agree upon a plan of the individual work of each of the chief prosecutors and his staff,

(b) To settle the final designation of major war criminals to be tried by the Tribunal,

(c) To approve the indictment and the documents to be submitted thereafter,

(d) To judge the indictment and the accompanying documents with the Tribunal,

(e) To draw up and recommend to the Tribunal for its approval draft rules of procedure, contemplated by article 15 of this Chapter. The Tribunal shall have power to accept, with or without amendments, or to reject, the rules as recommended.

The committee shall act in all the above matters by a majority vote and shall appoint a chairman as may be convenient and in accordance with the principle of rotation, provided that if there is a equal division of vote concerning the designation of a defendant to be tried by the Tribunal, or the crimes with which he shall be charged, that proposal will be adopted which was made by the party which proposed that the particular defendant be tried, or the particular crimes be preferred against him.

Article 15. The chief prosecutor shall individually, and acting in collaboration with another, also undertake the following duties:

(a) Investigation, collection and production before or at the trial of all necessary evidence,

(b) The prosecution of the indictment for approval by the committee in accordance with paragraph (a) of article 14 above,

(c) The preliminary examination of all necessary witnesses or of the defendants,

(d) To act as prosecutor at the trial,
(a) To appoint representatives to carry out such duties as may be assigned to them,

(b) To undertake such other matters as may appear necessary for the purpose of the preparation for and conduct of the trial.

It is understood that no witness or defendant detained by any authority shall be taken out of the presence of that authority without his consent.

17. TRIAL OF THE DEFENDANTS

Article 16. In order to ensure fair trial for the defendants, the following procedure shall be followed:

(a) The indictment shall contain full particulars specifying in detail the charges against the defendants. A copy of the indictment and of all the documents "b" which the indictment, translated into a language which the defendant understands, shall be furnished to the defendant at a reasonable time before the trial.

(b) During any preliminary examination or trial of a defendant, he shall have the right to give any explanation relevant to the charges made against him.

(c) A preliminary examination of a defendant and his trial shall be conducted in a language which the defendant understands.

(d) A defendant shall have the right to conduct his own defense before the Tribunal or to have the assistance of counsel.

(e) A defendant shall have the right through himself or through his counsel to present evidence at the trial in support of his defense, and to cross-examine any witness called by the prosecution.

18. POWERS OF THE TRIBUNAL AND COURT OF THE TRIBUNAL

Article 17. The Tribunal shall have the power:

(a) To summon witnesses to the trial and to require their attendance and testimony and to put questions to them,

(b) To interrogate any defendant,

(c) To require the production of documents and other exculpatory material,

(d) To administer oaths to witnesses,

(e) To appoint officers for the carrying out of any task designated by the Tribunal including the power to have evidence taken on commission.

Article 18. The Tribunal shall:

(a) Conduct the trial strictly in an expeditious hearing of the issues raised by the charges.

(b) Take strict measures to prevent any notice which will not be reasonable, fair, and equal to the interests of the state and the defendant.

(c) Deal summarily with any controversy, imposing appropriate punishment, including exclusion of any defendant or his counsel from some or all further proceedings, but without prejudice to the determination of the charges.

Article 19. The Tribunal shall be bound by evidentiary rules of evidence. It shall adopt and apply to the greatest possible extent evidentiary and non-evidentiary procedures, and shall admit any evidence which it deems to have probative value.
Article 30. The Tribunal may require to be informed of the nature of any evidence before it is offered so that it may rule upon the relevance thereof.

Article 31. The Tribunal shall not require proof of facts of common knowledge but shall take judicial notice thereof. It shall also take judicial notice of official governmental documents and reports of the United Nations, including the acts and documents of the committees set up in the various Allied countries for the investigation of war crimes, and the records and findings of military or other tribunals of any of the United Nations.

Article 32. The permanent seat of the Tribunal shall be in Berlin. The first meetings of the members of the Tribunal and of the Chief Prosecutors shall be held at Berlin in a place to be designated by the Central Council for Germany. The first trial shall be held at Nuremberg, and any subsequent trials shall be held at such places as the Tribunal may decide.

Article 33. One or more of the chief prosecutors may take part in the prosecution at each trial. The function of any chief prosecutor may be discharged by him personally, or by any person or persons authorized by him.

The function of counsel for a defendant may be discharged at the defendant's request by any counsel professionally qualified to conduct cases before the courts of his own country, or by any other person who may be specially authorized thereto by the Tribunal.

Article 34. The proceedings at the trial shall take the following course:

(a) The indictment shall be read in court.

(b) The Tribunal shall ask each defendant whether he pleads "guilty" or "not guilty".

(c) The prosecution shall make an opening statement.

(d) The Tribunal shall ask the prosecution and the defense what evidence (if any) they wish to submit to the Tribunal, and the Tribunal shall rule upon the admissibility of such evidence.

(e) The witnesses for the prosecution shall be examined and after that the witnesses for the defense. Thereafter such rebutting evidence as may be held by the Tribunal to be admissible shall be called by either the prosecution or the defense.

(f) The Tribunal may put any question to any witness and to any defendant, at any time.

(g) The prosecution and the defense shall interrogate and may cross-examine any witnesses and any defendant who gives testimony.

(h) The defense shall address the court.

(i) The prosecution shall address the court.

(j) Each defendant may make a statement to the Tribunal.

(k) The Tribunal shall deliver judgment and pronounce sentence.

Article 35. All official documents shall be produced, and all court proceedings conducted, in English, French and Russian, and in the language of the defendant. So much of the record and of the proceedings may also be translated into the language of any country in which the Tribunal is sitting, as the Tribunal considers desirable in the interest of justice and public opinion.
VI. JUDGMENT AND SENTENCE

Article 26. The judgment of the Tribunal as to the guilt or the innocence of a defendant shall give the reasons on which it is based, and shall be final and not subject to review.

Article 27. The Tribunal shall have the right to impose upon a defendant, on conviction, death or such other punishment as shall be determined by it to be just.

Article 28. In addition to any punishment imposed by it, the Tribunal shall have the right to deprive the convicted person of any stolen property and order its delivery to the Control Council for Germany.

Article 29. In case of guilt, sentences shall be carried out in accordance with the orders of the Control Council for Germany, which may at any time reduce or otherwise alter the sentences, but may not increase the severity thereof. "If the Control Council for Germany, after any defendant has been convicted and sentenced, discovers fresh evidence which, in its opinion, would found a fresh charge against him, the Council shall report accordingly to the Committee established under article 16 hereof, for such action as they may consider proper, having regard to the interests of justice.

VII. EXPENSES

Article 30. The expenses of the Tribunal and of the trials, shall be charged by the signatories against the funds allotted for maintenance of the Control Council for Germany.
